

28TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL STONE CARVING SYMPOSIUM — JULY 11-19, 2015

We invite you to join us at the Treacy Levine Center at Camp Brotherhood for up to eight days of playing with stone, communing with nature, and enjoying the camaraderie of fellow stone enthusiasts. Bring yourself, your creative energy, your humor, tools, and a favorite piece of stone. If you don't have stone or tools, we have an entire tent set up for beginners with tools and instructors.

BOB LEVERICH

Shaping Form and Space

Bob works primarily with direct carving methods in granite and will assist those who want to think about and make works that might use a single stone or multiple stones to create a dialogue between the viewer and stone, the space around them, and perhaps even the larger landscape the work inhabits.

MJ ANDERSON

Finding Your Voice in Marble

Carving stone since 1984, MJ brings sculptures to fruition in both her studios in Carrara, Italy and in Nehalem, a small town on the Oregon coast. She annually selects marble, travertine and onyx from quarries and stone yards of Carrara for her iconic figurative and abstract sculptures. Her workshops will focus on the concepts of figurative carving.

RUTH MUESELER

Self-taught, Ruth's art runs the gamut from the tiny to monumental, from humor to ecology. As an instructor, Ruth is thoughtful in her manner and respectful of those wanting to learn stone. She will teach you about the stone and the tools and how to use them. She comes highly recommended by her former students.

KNUT HÜNEKE

Hand Carving Basalt

Knut Hüneke, born 1962 in Darmstadt, Germany, served his apprenticeship as stonemason and sculptor in Freiburg. His work has been in various national and international projects and exhibitions, with a particular focus on volcanic rock. "To me, the synthesis of material and idea requires that you only take away as much as necessary to let the figure emerge. Leave as much as possible to the stone."
